KARL XANDER.

Justice Samuel C. Mills,
Will be one of the judges, under the new municipal bill.

C kens will come home to roost.

Because they are not satisfied after they leave home.

We often dig a hole for others that we fall into ourselves.

Speak the truth always, some times.

The Senate committee will investigate the workhouse.

If you want to know why the workhouse is over-crowded investigate the Police Court.

Our public schools are progressing nicely.

What can you expect when you tell an untruth.

The Police trial board is a great institution.

Will the Commissioners recommend a change in the jury system in the Police Court?

Congressman White is to be complimented on his speech.

Are there to be any more banquets?

The 2nd Baptist literary is in need of a new head.

Will Bishop Johnson make a change?

Speak what you know and nothing more.

Never tell your friends all you know, it will not pay.

It is not well always to play tricks on your friends.

Register Lyons, knows when to talk and what to talk about.

We often get conceited to our detriment.

The President will not appoint a negro general or colonel.

In our effort sometimes to injure others we injure ourselves.

A sample of the above is beautifully illustrated in the case of the recently rejected negro lieutenant.

Dr. Phill B. Brooks is a popular physician.

We often think we can do with out those who elevate us

White men may find it unhealthly to go to Cuba.

Rev. Taylor of Shiloh will start another literary soon.

Some people talk too much, especially when they are in trouble.

The world is a stage and e people are merely players.

Do your duty and nothing more.

Whatever your faults m , be just to your fellow man.

Never forget little acts of kindness.

Protect your home and be kind to your children.

John F. Cook would make an excellent treasurer of Howard University.

Major Sylvester makes an excellent chief of police.

Do your duty. It is noble.

The Afro-American council was a fizzle.

C. Maurice Smith would make a fine judge.

The people don't want offices of the justice of the peace abolished.

Some people cannot stand prosperity

Never allow a position to turn your head

There should be one colored bailiff in the Police Court.

You should never be impressed with the idea that you know it all.

You should never allow conceit to control your better judgement.

The Senate committee will investigate the Police Court.

Think wisely and express yourself intelligently.

The South may be reconstructed some time soon.

The republican party will have a hard struggle in 1900.

Never despise the day of small things.

The bogus committee of the Afro-American council should disband.

If you are honest you need have o fear of doing your duty.

The negro pulpit is in need of a reorganization.

DON'T DO IT.

Don't buy or sell your Railroad Ticket until you have seen us

Caution!—There have recently been issued several cheap reprints of the 1847 edition of Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, an edition long since superannuated. These books are given various names,—"Webster's Unabridged," "The Great Webster's Dictionary," "Webster's Big Dictionary," "Webster's Encyclopedic Dictionary," etc., etc.
Many announcements concerning them are very misleading, as the body of each, from A to Z, is 44 years old, and printed from cheap plates made by photographing the old pages.

THERE ARE NO REBELS NOW.

The crack of the murderous rifle has hardly died away and the torch of incendiarism hardly smothered in North Carolina before Senator Marion Butler, with unblushing audacity offers, as an amendment to the general pension bill, a proposition to pension rebel soldiers. In support of his proposition that gentlemen makes the startling statement that those who took up arms against the Union were not rebels but were patriots. So disgusting and false was the attitude of Butler, that after relieving himself of a great deal of sentimental rot, the senator from Tennessee relieved the situation by begging the speaker to withdraw the amendment and sit down. Mr. Butler says that the ex-confederates were not rebels. Pray what were they then? Did they fight to preserve the Union? Did not the leaders of the hellish conspiracy leave the council of the Union to which they had sworn allegiance and build up a rump congress in opposition to the constitution and in defiance of law? And did not this band of traitors wage bloody warfare for nearly five long sad years in order to establish a government in spite of an opposition to the Union?

It does not sound so soft to call a rebel a rebel. It may sound better to say that he was a confederate. But by whatever name called the men who took up arms to destroy this govenment and to defy the will of the people are rebels just the same. They rebelled against the government which they had sworn to serve and honor. They rebelled against every sentiment of loyalty to the Union and openly declared their right and duty to dismember it. When they were asked to return to the Union, they scornfully refused to do so and by pelf and plunder sought to strengthen their hands with the sinews of war. They were not only rebels then, but they are rebels now. They are antagonizing every principle and every product of the war. They are even now putting into operation schemes to defeat the grand principle of universal suffrage and of complete enfranchisement. They openly avow the constitutional amendments, which declare the citizenship of the colored people, to be void and of no effect. They oppose the pension rolls of the Union soldiers and in many ways show their hostility to the Union and the results of the war. Witness in the face of this the declaration in high places the claim that confederates were not rebels. If the confederates were not rebels, then the Union soldiers were. If the confederates did not fight to destroy the government, the Union men did. Every body knows that there was a war, a bloody fratricidal brutal war and that it was a war of rebellion. If we are to accept the statement of Butler, that those who fought against the Union were not rebels then there certainly could not have been a real war and the money being paid out for pension is but a waste of money on an illusory farce.

But if pensions are being paid for loyalty, then there must have been rebels and those rebels are responsible for all the mischief done and all the money spent. But we are not surprised at the audacity of Butler. A demand for pensions for rebels is consistent with the audacity with which human rights at the South are being trampled under foot and the open declaration on the part of the rebels that what they lost in war they will gain in peace. Let us call a spade a spade and in doing so we must call a rebel, a rebel so long as he antagonizes the constitution and seeks to nullify the laws.

CONGRESSMAN WHITE'S SPEECH.

The speech of Hon. Geo. H. White of North Carolina, in the House of Representatives last week was a master piece of oratory and logic. Mr. White was brave and manly in his utterances which fully demonstrated the character of the man. He showed that many of those who are inimical to the negro had been elected by theft, fraud and assassination. While his speech was a master defense of the negro, the BEE doesn't agree with him on the expansion scheme. A majority of the negroes in this country are opposed to expansion. A government that is powerless to protect its own citizens should never attempt to seize other governments by invasion and throw around them an American protectorate, which is nothing more than political and physical oppression. Expansion is a fraud and the American negro has long since come to the conclusion that before any government attempts to throw the protecting arm around a foreign foe, it should first protect its own citizens. The defense of the negro by Mr. White was admirable, but he is wrong on expansion. The best evidence is, of the recent overthrow of the local government in his own state. We know Mr. White to be one of the most honest men in this country. We know him to be a man upon whom the negro may depend. A man can be a politician and be honest, he can be a statesman and be noble, but a man who is not honest to his people is unworthy of belief. Mr. White is a man possessing every noble quality and above all he is a truthful man. He will do his race more good if he opposes expansion.

HELP THE POOR.

Every nationality seems to have an eye to helping the poor but the negro. The colored people of means, in this city, remain quiet and allow the white people to take care of their poor during the winter without giving any support whatever. It is about time for our colored citizens to be doing some thing substantial for their poor. The BEE makes this suggestion: Let Prof. J. T. Layton, W. A. Stewart and Prof. Hoffman be requested with the assistance of the colored schools give a monster musicale, at Convention Hall, for the poor in the several divisions of the public schools. Let the proceeds of this musicale be distributed, by the several supervising principals to the poor in their divisions Don't let us delay. Let us go to work.

Lady Randolph Churchill is about to publish a magazine, designed to satisfy the tastes of the nobility. Each number is to be sumptuously bound and sold at the very modest price of a guinea or about five dollars. This price will of course bar poor folks and the elite can have the satisfaction of reading news and other articles of a peculiarly exclusive character. We are curious to know just what kind of matter the magazine will contain. Perhaps it is to contain articles free from "shop" and the views of capitalized nobility on the subject of labor, politics and other matters which cannot be honestly expressed in a public journal. This new idea of putting a high price on select ideas ought to be emulated by some of our white journalists, in order that the unthinking besotted negro, as he is called, may be denied the benefit of enlightment. Judging from the tone some of our dailies ideas constitute a commodity in no way suited to the demands of negro education. For instance if the Post could find it profitable to charge a dollar a copy some of the highly entertaing and select articles which are daily effused by one of its editors might be kept from the unappreciative colored seeker after nuggets of wisdom. For our part we would regard it a Godsend if the price of the Post was so increased as to render the colored reader unable to buy. It might be a great loss to the colored people, but the law of compensation would be seen in the gratification offered the ememies of the colored man's advancement.

That the negro is more concerned in securing to himself and his posterity those rights for which Lincoln died, than he is in the question of expansion is natural enough. But if opposition to expansion means the endorsement of the principles for which the South contended during our late civil war and which her leaders still advocate, then by all means let us have expansion. Any measure which will be an expression of the will of the loyal North, as exemplified in the acts of President Lin-Lincoln and a repudiation of the dominant idea of the South, that this is the white man's government and that a negro has no rights that white men are bound to respect; should receive the unqualified endorsement of the negro race in this country.

"WHERE ARE WE AT?"

Senator Butler a few days ago made an appeal for pensioning rebel soldiers. A few days later, Senator Berry of Arkansas, in a speech opposing the radification of the treaty with Spain, made use of a very novel argument. He said that he was opposed to holding the Philippines on the ground that it is against "the principles for which the southern confederacy fought and for which Stonewall Jackson died." Unless a most woeful change has come over the spirit of the American patriot, the argument urged by the senator ought to constitute the very best reason why the Philippines should be annexed. The principles for which the confederacy fought and Jackson died were antagonistic to freedom, to the will of the majority and to the supremacy of the Constitution of the United States. These same principles declared cotton king, instituted class distinctions and justified political assasination. Surely the treaty ought to be radified if by doing so, the principles of rebeldom are to be opposed. Things are getting so terribly mixed that it is becoming a question as to whether the principles for which Lincoln conducted a successful war are not all wrong and the rebel all right. Where are we at?

OPPRESSIVE LAWS.

The laws recently enacted for the lower branch of our Police Court are too oppressive and if these laws are repealed or modified the work house will forever be overcrowded with prisoners. Our vagrancy laws, to say the least, are the most oppressive laws ever enacted for any people. Many of the vagrants who are sent to the workhouse could just as well be given a lecture and sent about their business. In many instances a man is picked up in the streets because he is looking for work and sent down on the farm. Men who are hired by the sporting class in the division to play the piano are arrested, convicted and sentenced to the workhouse. They are heavily fined in most instances and if they are unable to pay their fines they must serve a long term in the workhouse. An investigation of the method by which convictions are made should be made by the Senate Committee which will readily show why our workhouse is overcrowded. Complaints are being made daily by the attorneys against these oppressive laws. A petition is now being circulated, the tenor of which makes an appeal to Congress if jury trials are not allowed in all prosecutions, the privilege will be asked to select the judge before whom the defendant is to be tried.

A FINE DISPLAY OF ORATORY AND LOGIC.

The Congressional Lyceum which holds its regular sessions at Odd Fellows Hall, on M street, every Sunday afternoon, was the center of attraction owing to the medal presentation. This lyceum has made an innovation in literary work in this city by offering a medal to be won by competitive debate. The first of these series was held at the Metropolitan Baptist church, R street, northwest, on Monday Jan. 23rd. The president of the lyceum, Lawyer Martin, presiding. Music was furnished by th echoir of the church. The competitors were Messrs. Hershaw, Newsome, Board, and Pinn. The subject discussed was, Resolved: "That the government of Great Britian is superior to that of the United States." Affirmatives, Messrs. Newsome and Board. Negative, Messrs. Pinn and Hershaw. Mr. Hershaw opened the discussion for his side, though not a contestant for the the medal, made an eloquent, effective and able address and won great admiration from all present, his analysis of government and comparison between the two governments were unanswerable Mr. Board then followed for his side, and from the fact that be won the medal must have produced the best argument. He certainly in a most pointed and eloquent style portrayed the ends to which governments must attain, he divided his subject in four thesis and treated them masterly. Mr. Board is a product of Wilberfore.

Mr. Pinn then followed in defense of his theory, while Mr. Pinn presented some telling facts, it was evident that he had not studied the question to a great extent and he was not the supporter to Mr. Hershaw as all expected him to be, knowing so well his ability. The last speaker of the evening was Mr. Newsome of Howard law school. Mr. Newsome field is rhetortic and metaphor he sallies forth in magnificent and phosporesist pharases to lofty heights and unseen deptns, he charms the ear, sets the motions and passions all afire, he is the Ingersol of the race. But when the tempest has cleared away and all is quiet and you have stripped his argument of the decorations very few substantial facts remain. Mr. Newsomei s certainly a very beautiful speaker to say the least. The judges of the debate were Prof. Baltimore, Dr. Richardson and Mr. J. F. N. Wilkinson. On last Sunday at Odd Fellows Hall the medal was presented to Mr. Board. The BEE congratulates him and also this good work of Lawyer Martin in developing and fostering the literary genius of the young colored men of this city.

Our best people will doubtless be out enmasses to give the happy combination of Amphions and Hoffman's orchestra a rousing and well deserved sendoff. Carriages at 2 a. m.

There will be no postponement of the entertainment by the Amphions and Hoffman's orchestra February 8th on account of the weather. Rain or shine the entertainment will go on.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

The Vaudeviile season at this popular theatre has been so far so successful as to encourage the management to still greater efforts. The engagement this week of Mason Mitchell, Patrice and Geo. W. Monroe, each of whom in themselves are stars, is suggestive of their desire to give only the best artists obtainable. For the coming week, Robt. Downing together with his Company will be seen in his favorite character of Sparticus the Gladitor. He is so well known here that comment is unnecessary. Miss Flo. Irwin, the sister of May Irwin, asaisted by her Company will be seen in her Playette "The Gay Miss Con." Mark Humphy, the funny little Irishman, in his songs and funny stories. Another of the best features in the Vaudeville is Wormwood's Dog and Monkey Circus, it is the best act of the kind and will be sure to please. The Trolley Car Trio, an accrobatic act of the better class will be appreciated. The great Kenwick in her songs, dances and imitation, will be one of the brightest bits of the offering while Gilbert Girard in his imitations of animals will wind up the bill of more than ordinary ability. Matinee daily.

WEBER'S DAINTY DUTCHES COMPANY.

L. Lawrence Weber's trademark always signifies greatest and best. Therefore, when we announce of the coming next week of this excellent attraction at Kernan's Lyceum, we are satisfied that Mr. Weber will bring us a very stormy show. Last season his Parisian Widows took us by storm and was far beyond our expectation and as Mr. Weber claims that no expense of labor, time, thought and wealth has been spared in forming this monster gathering of high class vaudeville and burlesque talents making the Dainty Duchess Company in every point and detail the best organization on the road.
